Introduction: The Meaning of Maya Aztec

The Maya Aztec is the essence of nature in thought, feeling and action. It is the macrocosmic microorganic vibratory sequence, which through the language of the planet and of nature speaks to us of internal and external changes. These vibrations flow at the speed of light, since they are the extract of water, wind, fire, seas, sun, earth, flowers, trees, stars, planets and galactic systems.

The Aztecs, Mayans and Incas captured information in codices, temples and stelae, which make up the universities of galactic knowledge. There they recorded the message for the awakening of the new consciousness and this is the cause of the need for the unification of the indigenous people of the planet.

Each of the sacred temples, left by pre-Hispanic cultures, contains the codification for integration that allows us to merge with nature and thus develop a galactic spirit system. By taking all the codifications from the microcosm to the macrocosm and going through the Internal Being, it integrates with nature, opening the 108 dimensions that the Maya Aztec marks for us.

There are 21 books with the development of each Mayan, Inca and Aztec temple, this is the first integration that is delivered. This is how the triangulation of a galactic language is formed that is applied to human language to awaken new psychic states and open the Kukulcan, which is the emotional movement that allows the co-creation of etheric beings in other dimensional planes. If the human being develops his sexuality from his essence, with the galactic language he will be able to co-create in other dimensions, from this third dimension. In this way, the formation of solar species will be gestating, so that the individual Being reaches its planetary essence.

To achieve integration with the Maya Aztec we must take the language of sexuality (Kukulcan), of the heart (Nahuatl) and the mind (Galactic Tonal); they represent the essence of each element, planet and galaxy.

If we connect with the essence of nature, we will achieve the vacuum that will allow us to take in the new galactic information of our Inner Being.

The Aztec is the planetary feeling, which through the Nahuatl solar disk, called the Aztec Calendar, marks the development of the astroplanetary micro-macrocosmic heart. To open the planetary feeling we have to penetrate the heart or nahual of each element until reaching the solar-lunar system, understanding the nahual feeling. This is how the Spirit Being is nourished and the dimensional transformation is produced, acquiring the feeling of life through the language of the Planetary Nahual. In this way we open the furrows so that we are allowed to create our planetary systems that correspond to each human cell.

Maya Aztec Sacred Meditations: Integration With Nature

The Maya, Planetary Tonal, is the mind of the Astroplanetary Spirit, and it is the one that sustains the feeling that allows the movement of the Galactic Thought. The Internal Being has a planetary codification that will allow the development of the spirit that will sustain it in other dimensions, but it has to be gestated from the physical body through the carrying out the integration work, for which you must take into account the following points:

- 1- You will be emptied of all information
- 2- You will be reunited with your Inner Being.
- 3-Your vibration frequency will grow.
- 4- You will open dimensional doors that were sealed for thousands of years.
- 5- You will integrate into nature to the element that corresponds to you.
- 6- You will open the new furrows of understanding without human reasoning, only the spirit will take you where you belong, so that you reach your essence.
- 7- You will awaken the planetary sensitivity.
- 8- You will join the universal whole, without limiting it with human names. 9- The awakening of your Galactic Luminous Being will open in the void.

By integrating ourselves into the consciousness of the Luminous Being that lives within us, we recognize the Universal Father, creator of existence. For this, we must integrate ourselves with the essence of nature in its different planes of consciousness, beginning with the third dimension, in order to elevate our thoughts and crystallize them in the eternal flight of consciousness in search of the Luminous Warrior.

On July 11, 1991, during the solar eclipse, at 12 o'clock, planetary integration manifested itself, opening the solar doors of all the sacred universities of Meshico and Mesoamerica (since all the vibratory levels of the universe have a cycle called Kukulcan), thus being fulfilled in the New Age universities what Quetzalcoatl prophesied in the past:

‘I will return and the awakening of this land will rise again.

Thus, the eclipse opened the doors of the microcosm and macrocosm (the internal microcosm, called the internal sun and the union with the planetary macrocosm), because when the doors of the New Age universities were opened, the sacred consciousness reappeared, manifesting light and darkness, the 1 sacred serpent, balance, absolute knowledge of pre-Hispanic lands, which are knowledge of the vibratory movement from the fourth to the ninth dimension, the planetary understanding of a system called the human body, that is: the teaching of integration with existence to develop internal capacities, called psychic powers and know the eternal light that lives in each one, integrating ourselves into all vibratory and dimensional planes.

Maya Aztec Sacred Meditations: Integration With Nature

This development must be done with patience, to discern the footsteps of the Luminous Being at every moment, without questioning oneself and taking the nectar of life in an eternal flow.

It is the time of the void, no more religions, no more dogmas. We merge with nature, with the planetary system, it will take us to the Luminous Being that we carry within. Our internal solar teacher tells us that we must contact the essence of planetary and galactic nature by taking the solar, lunar and astral language, in this way all the answers to our cosmic concerns will appear, emptying us of all information to melt into the essence. Listen to your inner indigenous person, he is the wise man who sustains your spirit on this earth, he is the Pachamama who fills you with blessings. Dare to SERRRR and listen to nature.'

The time for the return of the galactic wizards has begun and they await you on the mountain of gold. Be happy and remember, these integrations are not questions and answers, it is the time of emptiness, do not look for human logical reasoning. Just be, flow and let the wings that hold you on earth guide you. Connect to the essence of dimensional nature and be a galactic co-creator.

SERRRR, in the Universal Luminous Being, listen to the universal wizards who allow your deep dreams, dream of millennial eternity.

The word is direct communication at any vibratory frequency, so do not forget what the movement of the Feathered Serpent does:

BEING: of the essence

PI: in the heavenly circle

ENTITY: spirit

FEATHERED: acknowledging consciousness on earth and wind to integrate into planetary consciousness

This is the teaching for all those who truly have faith in themselves, because only in this way will you look with internal eyes, the eyes of Universal Existence. The decree with your internal strength is what will make it come true. Your doubt blocks, your lack of faith eliminates the frequency, since it is very subtle and must be sung with love, so your work will be more intense.

Maya Aztec Sacred Meditations: Integration With Nature

In the New Era, sacrifices are not required, it is required to flow in consciousness, from love without dogmas, only taking a language that corresponds to the vibratory change of the planet, whose frequency goes from the microcosmic to the macrocosmic- thus precipitating our spiritual process.

Dare to open your wings and look at the nine thousand Christic colors of the feathered serpent, Kukulcan, who returns to the planet to transform his thoughts into planetary feathers. Open your heart and integrate into the infinite sun where you were born and where you are going to return, feeling each AD rristal of the Internal Aer fil. Drink from what the Absolute Creator has given you, always remembering that his golden wings cover you to guide you along the path of the Luminous Warrior.

So today warrior, you are welcome to drink the nectar of the golden water of Quetzalcoatl, through internal work with songs, mantras and decrees that will be made known so that you can use them in your daily life and thus reach the star of solar lunar planetary fire , in the encounter with the birth of your internal sun.'

MAYA SHA INLAKESH: the spirit of illusion that makes you be in me and I in you.

Instructions for the Meditations:

Before beginning, it is important that you become aware of your breathing, since through it you feed your spirit, balancing your physical matter called the human body. Therefore, before starting you will do 4 breaths as follows:

- Sit comfortably with your spine straight, keeping it in that position from the moment you start your breath until you finish your work, without recharging it, since the energy runs through it and in this way you allow it to flow correctly.
- Inhale deeply and forcefully, hold your breath for 4 counts and exhale forcefully through your mouth, making the sound of the ese (ssss). Visualize how each time you inhale you fill every cell of your body with strength and when you exhale you take out all the mischanneled energy, freeing yourself from all tension, emptying your mind.
- At the end of the 4 breaths you should find yourself totally relaxed, otherwise continue until you really are, to begin with the corresponding protection.

It is very important that you carry out the protection every day, since in this way you will avoid wear and tear on your physical body and the work will be done with full force.

To perform protection, place the palm of your left hand on your solar plexus (just where the ribs meet) and your right hand with the palm open towards the earth, the horizon or the sky with the arm resting on your right leg.

Carry out the integration following the steps indicated in each one.

Maya Aztec Sacred Meditations: Integration With Nature

At the end of the integration work in silence, place the palm of your left hand towards the sky with the arm semi-extended upwards and your right hand with the palm open will direct it to the earth with the arm downwards, semi-extended and to the side, so that a kind of diagonal is formed between both hands and your arms. Feel how you absorb energy with your left hand and emanate it from your right. .When you feel that you have filled up, change the polarity (left hand towards earth and right hand towards heaven), so that in this way you balance the energy that you are receiving.

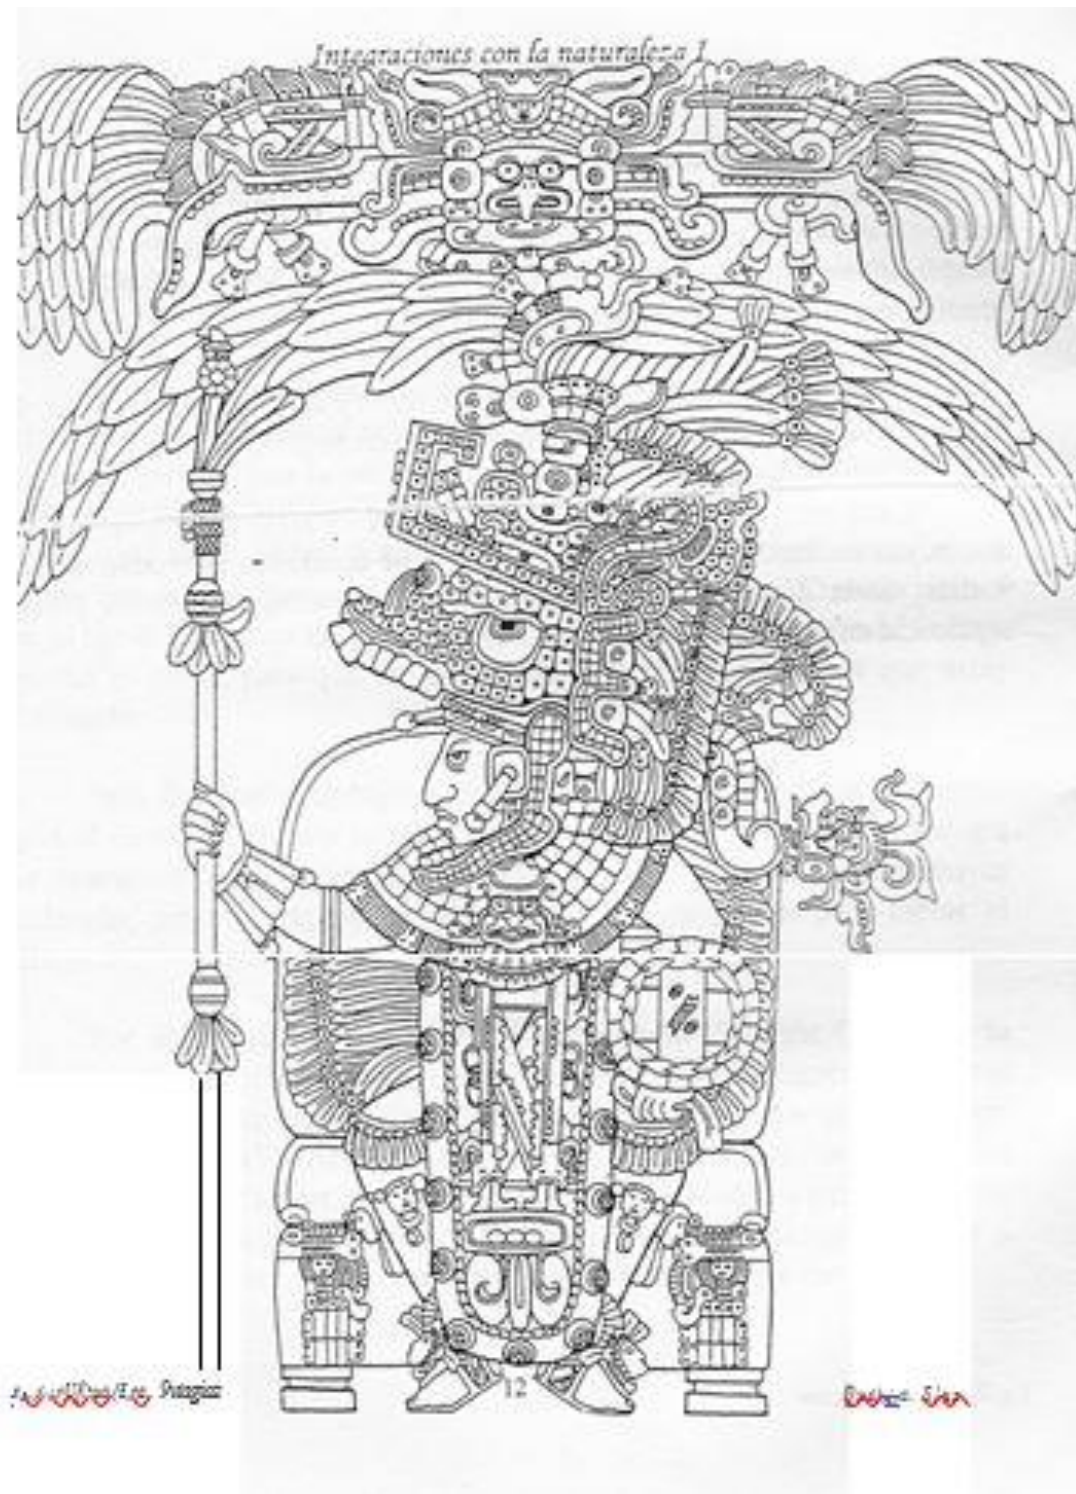

To finish the work, place both arms extended and open towards the sky and your head backwards, taking all the energy that descends at that moment through your mouth until you are filled with it. When you are finished, bring your hands together and place them on your chest to close the work.

Lastly, place your left hand on your HEART CHAKRA and your right hand on your left shoulder, and in that position decree 3 times the greeting of the Maya-Aztec teaching while you bow towards the earth in reverence: "MAYA SHA IN LAKECH". Thank all the essences that were present, the Universal Father, Mother Earth and your Being for allowing you to do the work. Then reverse your hands and repeat the bow three more times to balance the closing of the work.

It is very important that while you do the work, you become aware of what you decree and visualize it, so that once the work is finished, you receive the energy corresponding to what you have been decreeing from your heart, so that later with all the love you can give the Thank you, closing the job in this way.

*Work starts with protection I and Integration 2001 . The integrations are carried out according to their numerical order (2001 to 2009).

*Each integration or job is done in a 7-day cycle. Once you have made all the integrations, a new cycle of 9 days • begins - each day a different Integration, starting with the Y following in order until 2009.

About the Protections

The so-called natural phenomena, such as the equinoxes, solstices, eclipses, etc. energetically they are transforming the planet. To protect oneself is to integrate from the microcosm to the macrocosm in consciousness, 6 generating high frequencies of understanding.

Carrying out the protection before making any integration allows each being to absorb the energy it requires, giving it vitality and spiritual growth, avoiding physical wear and tear in the third dimension, as it protects from all existing positive and negative energy. We are in planetary energetic transformation, not only the human being grows and evolves, but also the Earth, as above so below.

It is important that you incorporate the realization of protection as a daily habit, when you get up and/or when you go to bed, even if you have finished with your integration work.

Maya Aztec Sacred Meditations: Integration With Nature

Poem: Earth

The crying earth has asked me to help calm her pain.

Little by little they have destroyed it and so much blood that runs through it cannot stop. She has asked me to stop the wars, to stop the habit of hating. But their worried wild children are already hunting and slaughtering them without reason. The earth Time without stopping, trying to find the reason, if I have given them water to quench their thirst, fruits to quench their hunger, mountains to feel closer to the stars and the Father, by day a sun, by night a moon, has given them natural beauty without limits so that their souls understand and know what true love is. But no one has listened to it, everyone follows the path of its destruction.

And there is blood in her bowels, and when she breathes there is only smoke.

The earth is a Divine Being that is full of love. In the Universe it is distinguished for being the planet of love, so they have called it. The land of love, life, evolution, land of inspiration, passion and hope. But no one listens to her, and her guests have forgotten that they are only passing visitors in this divine land.

But they are saturating her with negative energy, and through her catastrophes she tries to defend herself without ceasing.

Ooh!! visitors listen to the earth as it cries without stopping.

Ooh!! inhabitants of the earth recognize the earth as their astral mother.

Poem: Silver Eagle

Silver eagle that descends from the universes, in your flight you are revealing the infinite purity of your being. Silver Eagle ,what a messenger.

You are the Father and you plunge into the depths of our souls, sprinkling silver sparks into our entrails.

Meditate and quietly listen to the celestial singing and what messages will he give you. Feel those silvery sparks fly around your aura. But be constant and always meditate that only in this way can she descend, helping us to understand the unknown, giving us teaching and wisdom. Silver Eagle be our companion when meditating. Touch those sparks with your mind, feel them floating within you and slowly opening your way to heavenly consciousness.

With each inhalation that you take, these sparks are cleaning and generating new energy that will give you strength to continue on the unknown path. Silver Eagle that represents the Holy Spirit, open our consciousness to life and help us so that our being learns to meditate without ceasing.

Decree and chant 4 times:

I am the source of h.!? T::0ic'L8 dont! I open my etheric, astral physical body, to absorb the petal of violet light in the seventh dimension.

I am the triangulation of the thought of the violet crystal of Mother Earth, in the feeling of the ovulation of the earth.

I am the golden water of three thousand drops of violet blood that transform in every moment.

Poem: Twenty-seven thousand Violet Thoughts

Twenty-seven thousand violet thoughts that invade my being, feed my mind and my soul is saturated with its essence and teaching.

Wrap me in your light, twenty-one thousand thoughts of transmutation. Transmuting all the energy that comes into my life at the speed of light.

I am dizzy from all that violet power that enters my ntraii.as. You perceive, you breathe that blessed light, that violet light that connects us to everything divine and sacred, transmuting everything negative and dark, renewing and giving a new essence to everything it touches.

Violet light that helps us control the inner being.

Twenty-seven thousand thoughts that nourish my being, and twenty-seven thousand golden Jiumas of! astral knowledge. Feathers and thoughts covering a planet and leaving their essence of pure transmutation.

Twenty-seven thousand thoughts that the maidens and princesses of the cosmos learned to decipher. But feel that light, those feathers covering you! cosmic gold, touching their bodies and transmuting the negative of their being.

Twenty-seven thousand thoughts of violet light cover the pools of fire since they are the ones that sustain the planet.
